

Guidelines for Fast Track Application

The Cyprus National Bioethics Committee (CNBC) in its effort to facilitate researchers, especially in the field of educational, sociological and psychological research, accepts fast track applications.

Through this procedure CNBC either grants approval or requests from the Principal Investigator to proceed with the submission of an application for a complete bioethical review by the Review Bioethics Committee (REC).

As part of this process, researchers are kindly requested to submit to the CNBC the following documents: 1) a duly completed and signed fast track application form, 2) a Consent Form which would be supporting the fast track application and 3) any other supporting documentation (please see section E of the application form).

The required documents should be submitted to the following address (by post or by hand):
